

SIXTH ANNUAL
ST. LOUIS PHILOSOPHY OF SOCIAL SCIENCE ROUNDTABLE
MARCH 19-21, 2004

SAINT LOUIS UNIVERSITY

All sessions will be held in the Conference Room, main floor of the Humanities Building (3800 Lindell Blvd)

FRIDAY, MARCH 19

12:00-2:00: Theoretical Extensions

- Eric Schliesser (Washington University): "Galilean Reflections on Milton Friedman's Methodology of Positive Economics"
- Pierre Livet (Aix-Marseille I.): "What Kind of Cumulativity is Possible in Social Sciences?"

2:15-4:15: Methodology Unity/Integration

- James Johnson (University of Rochester): "Consequences of Positivism: A Pragmatist Assessment"
- Tomislav Janovic, Vladimir Ivkovic, Veljko Jovanovic (Institute for Anthropological Research in Zagreb, Croatia): "The Prospects for Integrating Different Description/Explanation Levels in Anthropology: A Test Case"

4:30 Keynote Address - David Copp (University of Florida)
"Moral Naturalism and Three Grades of Normativity"

7:00 Dinner: restaurant to be announced

SATURDAY, MARCH 20

9:00 - 12:00: Approaches to the Psychological

- Warren Schmaus (Illinois Institute of Technology): "Evolutionary and Neuroscience Approaches to the Study of Cognition"
- Jonathan Tsou (University of Chicago): "Values and Explanation in Psychology: The Case of 'Mental Illness'"
- Cary Federman (Duquesne University): "Between Structure and Agency: Paranoia and the Birth of the Social Sciences"

12:00-1:00 Lunch

1:00 - 3:00: Interest Explanations

- Ann E. Cudd (University of Kansas): "How to Explain Oppression"
- Patrick Baert (Cambridge University): "Pragmatism and Self-referential Knowledge"

3:15 - 5:15: Explaining Science

- William Rehg (Saint Louis University): "Ethnographies of Scientific Work and Critical Social Theory: Implications for the Critical Assessment of Argumentation as a Social Process"
- Petri Ylikoski (University of Helsinki): "Explaining with Interests"

5:30 Keynote Address - Alex Rosenberg (Duke University)
"Biology and the 'Special' Sciences"

7:00 Dinner: hosted by the Organizers

SUNDAY, MARCH 21

10:00 - 1:00: Group Intentions / Social Ontology

- William A. Gorton (St. Olaf College): "The Shortcomings of Popperian Situational Analysis"
- Frank Hindriks (Erasmus University, Rotterdam): "Institutions, Practices and Constitutive Rules"
- Deborah Perron Tollefsen (University of Memphis): "Do You See What I See? Joint Attention and Collective Action"
- Emma Tieffenbach (EHES, Paris): "Invisible hand Explanations"